CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™: CFP® are professional certification marks granted in the United States by the Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. ("CFP Board").

The CFP® certification is voluntary. No federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and several other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that the CFP Board's studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor's Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board's financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning;
- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one's ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one's knowledge of financial planning to real-world circumstances;

- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and
- Ethics – Agree to be bound by the CFP Board’s Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field
- Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to the CFP Board’s enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.

Retirement Income Certified Professional®: The RICP® is a professional designation for financial advisors. Having the RICP® designation means the advisor has specialized education in retirement income and is committed to professional and ethical best practices. The mark of RICP® is the property of The American College of Financial Services and may be used by individuals who have completed the initial and ongoing certification requirements for this designation. The College can disallow the use of the RICP® if advisors do not adhere to the program’s ethical standards, continuing education, and other requirements. Only 7.5% Of U.S. financial advisors have the RICP® designation based on 2016 data from the U.S. Department of Labor Statistics and The American College of Financial Services.

Item 3: Disciplinary Information

No financial professional at YFP has ever been involved in an arbitration claim of any kind or been found liable in a civil, self-regulatory organization, or administrative proceeding.

Item 4: Other Business Activities

YFP Tax

Timothy Baker, CFP®, a principal of YFP, is also a principal of YFP Tax, LLC, a tax preparation firm located in the same place of business as YFP. YFP does not render tax preparation services to our clients, however, YFP Tax does offer tax preparation services. To the extent that a client requires tax preparation services, we, if requested, may recommend the services of an accounting or tax preparation firm, including YFP Tax. These tax preparation services shall be rendered independent of YFP according to a separate agreement between the client and the tax preparation firm. These activities account for approximately 15% of Mr. Baker's time.

YFP Gives

Timothy Baker, CFP®, a principal of YFP, is a trustee and founding member of YFP Gives. YFP Gives is a nonprofit organization that provides educational resources to enhance the financial wellness of those practicing in, and those training for, the profession of pharmacy, and to bring together the community of pharmacists to effect meaningful change in the world. These activities account for approximately 5% of Mr. Baker's time.

Item 5: Additional Compensation

No financial professional at YFP receives any economic benefit from any person, company, or organization in exchange for providing clients advisory services through YFP.

Item 6: Supervision

As Principal and Chief Compliance Officer of YFP, Timothy Baker is responsible for supervision. Mr. Baker maintains a compliance manual outlining supervisory procedures. The compliance manual is reviewed at least annually. If additional employees are added to the firm, they will attest to having received the compliance manual and participate in annual and ongoing compliance training.
